The Competition

The Dream...

This souvenir of the 1994 U.S. First Competition is dedicated to all those who share the vision and helped to make it a reality. They recognized that the wealth of our country is visited in our youth, and that teaching, learning, and applying science and technology can be fun!

An Idea Whose Time Has Come ...

...“In my view, all of you who are participating, whether you are students, teachers or the support from the other organizations, universities and corporations, you’re really all winners just for being here, and just for participating.”

excerpt from speech at U.S. FIRST Awards Dinner

“The message is clear--the commitment of the world’s best engineers to be new role models for our nation’s youth can make a difference. ...No other program has the potential to influence so many young minds while reinforcing the national goal of being a world leader in business and education.”

*Paul A. Allaire
